PRICE FIVE CENTS

After Hearing Death Sentence

Kidnap-slayers Carl Austin Hall, left, and Mrs. Bonnie Heady leave the U.S. Courthouse in Kansas City, Nov. 18, after hearing U.S. District Judge Albert L. Reeves sentence them to die in Missouri's gas chamber December 18, for the death of six-year-old Bobby Greenlease. They are being led off the Post Office loading dock at the rear of the courthouse building.

Greenlease Killers Wait in Cells for Death House Trip

Priest Says Pair Seem Remorseful; Will Be Given Gas Executions

Kansas City, Nov. 20 (AP)—The condemned kidnap-killers of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease waited in jail cells today for their last trip—the trip to the lethal gas chamber in the Missouri state prison just one week before Christmas.

Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady will be executed at the same time—as soon as possible after 12:01 a. m., Dec. 18.

The showed little emotion yesterday as they heard a federal judge, carrying out a jury's recommendation, sentence them to die.

But an Episcopal priest who visited them later said the kidnapers appeared remorseful.

"When I saw him previous to the trial on two occasions his first statements were those of remorse," said the Rev. George Evans. "I saw him again this afternoon and at his request talked to Mrs. Heady. This was the first time I had seen Mrs. Heady. She likewise expressed great contrition."

Double Execution

Acting U. S. Marshal William Tatman said, "There have been double executions before and we plan to do it in this case."

Hall and Mrs. Heady can be seated side by side in death.

The gas chamber has two metal chairs about three feet apart. Under the chairs are stone crocks containing sulphuric acid. When the prisoners are strapped into place, a lever is tripped causing cyanide to drop into the acid. The resulting deadly gas rises. Death comes when the prisoners inhale it.

The gas renders them unconscious within a matter of seconds," Tatman said.

The execution tank itself has about 18 square feet of floor space. It has a steel floor, door and steel-domed roof. There are windows through which witnesses may watch the executions.

Mrs. Heady, a divorcee, has expressed desire to marry Hall before their execution, court officials said. Hall, who also was married and divorced, has not indicated a similar desire, the officials reported.

The director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons would have to give permission for such a marriage.

Small Chance of Appeal

There was small chance of an appeal. Roy Dietrich, court-appointed attorney for Hall, said he saw nothing to warrant appealing the decision of U. S. District Judge Albert L. Reeves.

The 34-year-old playboy and his 41-year-old alcoholic mistress watched dry-eyed as the tragic case drew to a dramatic close on the fourth day of the trial.

They seemed relieved as they were hustled out of the courtroom, handcuffed to waist chains

American Can Has No Plan To Locate at Pan-Am Field

General Electric Suspends Pair

Employees Named as Reds by Undercover Agent for FBI

At Least That Is View of Local Sources; Others May Be Interested

Rumors that the American Can Company might locate a branch plant or warehouse facilities on the Pan-Am Field on Albany avenue extension have been denied, it was learned on good authority today, but local realtors and others are optimistic that that field and other possible industrial sites in the vicinity may receive increased consideration by firms seeking to expand.

The optimism grew after the announcement on Nov. 7 that International Business Machines Corp will expand facilities to the town of Ulster as soon as it receives an expected defense contract.

Favorite Setting

The Pan-Am Field, containing five and a half acres with railroad and highway fronting, has been a favorite setting for rumors concerning its possible use by smaller industries, and the fact that it is located near the 200-acre site upon which IBM has obtained options may prove to increase its desirability.

Local sources in a position to know, however, said today that they were unaware of any pending transactions.

Sen. McCarthy ordered the men escorted from the room by U. S. marshals when they sought vociferously to be heard, but at the same time, refused to take an oath and say whether they were Communists.

McCarthy said both men invoked the Fifth Amendment (a protection against self-incrimination) at a closed hearing of his Senate Permanent Investigating subcommittee the previous day.

Shortly after their suspension from the GE, Essex county Dist. Atty. Hugh A. Gregg, announced he plans to launch an investigation against Goodwin and Mills with a view toward criminal action.

Had Access to Products

Both men were pointed out by Teto as having had access to critical products GE makes for the armed services.

Herbert L. Ross, local General Electric manager of industrial relations, sent the following telegram to Goodwin and Mills:

"In view of the testimony under oath today before the permanent subcommittee on investigations of the Senate Committee on Government Operations that you are Communists and your failure to avail yourself of the opportunity offered to deny this testimony, you are hereby suspended from employment of the General Electric Company pending our further investigation and determinations."

Attorney Thrown Out

Gabriel Kantrovitz, attorney for both men, who also was thrown out of the hearing room when he spoke in behalf of his clients while another person was testifying, called the suspensions "arbitrary and without legal basis."

He said in a statement his clients "testified in secret session that they are patriotic citizens and have been guilty of no misconduct at General Electric or elsewhere."

Teto testified he knows of Red cells in General Electric plants in Lynn, Fitchburg, Everett and Schenectady, N. Y.

He added that there are no secrets safe from the Communists in those plants.

Three Lynn General Electric employees invoked the Fifth Amendment yesterday when asked by McCarthy if they were Communists and whether they would bomb the GE facilities if ordered to Russia.

They are Henry Archdeacon of Boston and Donald Morrill and Witulad Pietarski, both of Lynn.

Reds Assail Dean; Seen As Big Stall

U. S. Ambassador Says Communists May Be Awaiting Orders From Top Bosses

Panmunjom, Nov. 20 (AP)—Communist diplomats fired a stream of abuse at U. S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean today instead of answering his repeated demands to explain their "fuzzy" plan for neutrals to attend the Korean peace conference.

Dean said the Red "harangue" probably was just a stall until Peiping or Moscow sent orders to Communist diplomats meeting at Panmunjom to plan the conference.

Another subcommittee working on a starting date reported no progress.

Both are scheduled to meet again at 11 a. m. Saturday (9 p. m. Friday EST).

The Communist plan calls for non-belligerent nations to attend the conference without a vote on major issues. They apparently abandoned early demands that some non-belligerents have full participation—a plan exactly opposite the UN proposal for a meeting of only those nations which fought in Korea.

Might Be Willing

However, Dean's pressure on the Reds to give details of their proposal indicates the allies might be willing to reach some sort of compromise.

He told the Reds Friday:

"You can not expect me to consider seriously, nor to pass on to the other 16 nations whom I represent, those aspects of your proposal which are far from clear. I can not transmit that which is fuzzy."

When he left Washington, Dean bore instructions only to "exchange views" on composition.

Dean said the Communists would not answer his repeated requests that they explain to him "simply, clearly and specifically" what observers would do at the conference.

Instead, he said, they delivered a "long, abusive, ill-tempered harangue . . . (and) attacked me for being a warmonger, having lack of faith, and trying to postpone the political conference."

"They warned me," Dean said, "that under no circumstances was I again to refer to the USSR as not a neutral."

Says Officers Participate

Dean said he answered that Soviet officers "participated in interrogation and the obtaining of forced confessions" from Allied war prisoners.

He told them:

"USSR experts were advising your side on military, tank and anti-aircraft matters. Machine guns and other equipment were captured from your side with Russian lettering."

"Was this Russian lettering put there for fun?"

Dean emphasized that the preliminary talks "could not be fruitful" unless the Reds answer questions.

"A terrific responsibility rests upon us," Dean told them, "for upon what we do here may rest the peace of the world."

On the dispute over a site, Dean asked the Communists why they do not investigate facilities in Stockholm, Rio de Janeiro, Mexico City, Rome and Madrid. The Reds are insisting on Panmunjom, which Dean rejects.

Meanwhile, Communist efforts to woo home anti-Red Chinese and Korean prisoners of war remained stalemated with the Reds and custodian Indian command deadlocked over the number of POWs to be interviewed daily.

So far the Reds have won back only about 3 per cent.

Indian officials and other observers doubt if there will be any more explanations in the wake of such a propaganda whipping.

Sentenced for Bribes

Warsaw, Poland, Nov. 20 (AP)—A provincial court here has sentenced a Purchaser Ministry official to 12 years in prison for accepting bribes and taking part in illegal deals, it was announced today. Five others, described as kulaks—wealthy peasants—got terms of six to eight years. The announcement said Tadeusz Bralczyk, the official, received nearly 26,000 zlotys ($6,500) between March and October for issuing false certificates of delivery covering 31 tons of corn and 6 tons of paper milk containers.

Reuther Gets His Second Term as President of CIO

Voting Winds Up 5-Day Meeting; Opposition Is Lacking at Convention

Cleveland, Nov. 20 (AP)—Walter P. Reuther was elected without opposition today to his second term as CIO president. He was elected by acclamation.

Reuther, the 46-year-old United Auto Workers unionist, had to engage in a bitter showdown fight for the office only a year ago after the death of President Philip Murray.

Executive Vice President John W. Riffe, Secretary-Treasurer James B. Carey and eight vice presidents also were assured of re-election without a contest.

The elections wound up the CIO's five-day meeting and the lack of opposition typified the control which President Reuther and his administration has over the CIO's five million members.

Before the elections, the convention adopted a resolution throwing the CIO's full weight behind a drive for a guaranteed annual wage for members of affiliated unions.

Further Forecasts

The informant, who stipulated that his name should not be used, gave these further forecasts:

1. The "cash budget" probably can be balanced. This budget classifies as government income Social Security contributions, which exceed four billion dollars a year. The conventional budget does not, since they go into a special trust fund.

2. The administration will ask that the present 1 1/2 per cent rate of Social Security tax be extended for a year. The rate is due to go to 2 per cent on Jan. 1, before Congress convenes, but some adjustment could be made to refund any money collected at that rate.

3. Administration definitely will renew its request, rejected by Congress last summer, for an increase in the national debt ceiling from 275 billion dollars to 290 billion dollars.

There is not the slightest doubt, the officials said, that the ceiling will have to be raised sooner or later.

This is the picture officials say President Eisenhower hopes to present to Congress in his budget message early in January.

Spending—$6 or $7 billion dollars, compared to a 72-billion-dollar outlay scheduled for the current fiscal year.

Income—About 63 billion dollars, as against more than 68 billion dollars this year.

Deficit—Approximately 3 1/2 billion dollars, or just about the same as this year's estimate of $3,800,000,000.

Official Declares Big Part Would Come From Defense

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's best hope for the fiscal 1955 budget is a deficit of three to four billion dollars—attainable only if federal spending can be cut nearly six billions from the present rate.

A high administration official gave this estimate to reporters yesterday. He said that obviously a big part of any six-billion saving would have to come from National Security spending and is not yet in sight. He also said any such saving would be effected only if it could be done without impairing the National Security.

His forecast assumed also that Congress will head President Eisenhower's request for extension of present high corporate and excise tax rates beyond next April 1, when they are due for automatic reduction.

Court of Honor

Held by Scouts

New York, Nov. 20 (AP)—The stock market held fairly steady today with a tendency to advance very much in evidence.

There were enough losses scattered throughout the list, however, to prevent the market from making much progress.

Most changes either way were in the smaller fractions, but some issues moved around a point.

General Electric was a feature with a gain of more than a point after directors declared a dividend of $1 on common as compared with 75 cents previously paid quarterly. A month ago directors declared a special dividend of $1.

Aircrafts were higher as were the distillers. Other major divisions were mixed. No single division was entirely depressed.

Higher stocks included General Motors, National Distillers, Boeing, Lockheed, Curtis-Wright, American Telephone, Santa Fe, and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Lower were Southern Railway, Cities Service, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, and United Air Lines.

Eyes, After Death, Sought in Drive To Aid the Blind

The eye pledge campaign of the Kingston Lions Club seeks the donation of eyes after death to be used by the Sight Conservation Society of Northeastern New York for cornea transplants. This campaign will continue through November 28. The Lions Club, however, point out that pledges can be made at any time.

The Sight Conservation Society of Northeastern New York is an organization of Lions Clubs and covers an area of 150 miles around Albany. Experience has shown that 1,000 pledges will result in two or three corneas a year. The cornea is the part used in the restoration of sight.

The cornea is the window-like protection for the pupil of the eye. A part of a good cornea removed from the eyes of a donor can be grafted into the place of the damaged part removed from the blind person. After the transplant has fused itself into place the bandages are removed and sight is restored.

The operation is performed only in favorable cases of damaged corneas and is successful in restoring the sight of four out of five patients. It is estimated that at least 10,000 Americans, or one out of every 25 of all Americans blind, could probably see again through the medium of eye cornea transplants. It will take many years to meet the demand at the present rate of supply.

Eyes may be donated regardless of the age or condition of the eyes of the donor. The eyes which are not used for transplants are invaluable for research.

The eyes should be removed from the deceased person within three hours after death and are good for the operation within 24 to 36 hours.

Due to modern embalming methods the removal of the eyes does not mar the appearance of the body in any way. This question has been asked and we can assure you that the removal of the eyes from the deceased person will not be detected.

The person receiving the cornea transplant does not have to pay anything for the eyes and a number of agencies stand ready to help if he can not afford the price.

The Sight Conservation Society have pointed out that there are no religious objections to this program.

This campaign is in line with the long standing programs of the Lions Clubs regarding Sight Conservation and Health. The Lions Club furnishes eye examinations and glasses to the needy children of the city. They are always working toward the prevention of blindness and diseases of the eyes.

Pledge forms may be secured from any member of the Lions Club or from George Svirsky, chairman, 324 Wall street, Kingston, N. Y. For the convenience of readers of the Freeman a coupon is inserted so that all you have to do is fill this out and mail today.

Tribune Has Review Of Mandel's Works

Woodstock, Nov. 19.—The following review of the one-man show of paintings by Howard Mandel, currently on view at the Ganso Gallery, 125 East 57th street, New York, appeared in a recent issue of The New York Herald Tribune, with the caption, Happily Illustrative:

"Howard Mandel, after return from a Fulbright season abroad, continues to paint lively interpretations of visible human form and equally visible background details into canvases that result in many-faceted, completely space-filling substance. The appearance of his pictures is thus not unlike a piece of fanciful French or Italian needlework. Distortion is used and the pointed faces have the archaic appearance of wistful figures in Gothic manuscript. There is little question but that considerable learning is involved with his work. Excellent craftsmanship is indicated, but Cabaret is a vaudeville act of heavy humor, and Carousel too cute for more than a story book, to which field this artist's pleasantly illustrative art might best belong. On the contrary, Island People is mural-like in treatment, buoyantly decorative."

The exhibition will be on view through Nov. 21.

Says Schools Are Ended

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—Fly-by-night schools of the type which sprang up to cash in on the GI training program after World War 2 are virtually a thing of the past, the Veterans Administration (VA) said today. The VA said nearly every school in the nation training Korean war veterans under the GI bill "has been living up to the letter of the law."

Private Bids Sought For Gasoline Stations

Albany, Nov. 20 (AP)—The State Thruway Authority is asking private operators to bid for leases on 14 gasoline stations along the 427-mile New York-to-Buffalo express route.

Bertram D. Tallamy, chairman of the authority, said today the authority expected a yearly return of at least $40,000 from each station—or a total of $560,000 a year. Bids will be opened Dec. 4, 11 and 18.

The authority will erect the stations near restaurants already contracted for and will lease them to private operators. It said a variety of gasoline brands would be made available to motorists along the route, but that each station would handle only one brand.

Truman Is Silent On White Dispute At Political Dinner

Kansas City, Nov. 20 (AP)—Harry S. Truman had the time, the place and the audience last night to add verbal fire to the Harry Dexter White controversy.

Thus it was the former president stuck by his oft repeated statement he would have no more comment to make in the blistering cross fire of charges arising from the issue.

He spoke briefly to about 350 members of the Jackson County Young Democrats Inc. at a dinner meeting. They cheered him. He smiled, said he was happy to be there.

Once he referred to the "controversy this week" and then read from several of the telegrams he had received after his speech Monday night.

That was when he replied to charges of Atty. Gen. Brownell that Truman kept White in government service when he knew him to be a Communist spy.

Truman told the young Democrats the future was theirs if they face the problems of the future and don't look to the past.

"Never look back," he said. "Don't make little plans. Make big plans and put them into effect."

"We have a problem, and you young people can help us solve it. The Democratic party actually is in the majority today in the number of votes cast, but 90 percent of the press is anti-Democrat—anti-any Democrat. It seems that the only way we can prove that we are right is to give the other people a chance to both things up and then we have to set things straight."

Fire Is Battled
Owls Head, Nov. 20 (AP)—Rangers today continued battling a five-day forest fire that has raged across 25 acres of dense Adirondack woodland. Ranger Robert Brown said a heavy rain or snowfall was needed to quench the flames that broke out again yesterday after fire-fighters thought they were under control.

Veterans Have Visit

Boston, Nov. 20 (AP)—A legless Korean war veteran from New York today visited with the Boston veteran who was critically wounded while saving his life in Korea last year. Pfc. Howie Pearson, 26, of 70-108th street, Forest Hills, N. Y., arrived in Boston in his specially-equipped automobile last night to see Sgt. James Mealey at the Chelsea Naval Hospital. Pearson told how Mealey saved his life, as follows: Both were on patrol duty when Pearson stepped on a land mine. Mealey went out after him and he, too, stepped on a mine. Although seriously wounded, Mealey succeeded in bringing Pearson to medical aid. Mealey lost one lung and part of his elbow in the explosion which riddled him with shrapnel. Pearson has an artificial leg and walks with the aid of crutches.

PHILIPPINE ELECTION

The United States government is bound to be pleased at the recent sweeping victory of 46-year-old Ramon Magsaysay in the Philippine presidential election.

Despite Quirino's charges of "American interference" in the election, this country did nothing official to affect the campaign. Nevertheless, its tacit support was with the winner.

Magsaysay's smashing triumph certainly must be regarded at least partly as a tribute to him as a national hero. It was he who, as head of national defense under Quirino, successfully crushed the Communist-inspired Huk rebels who had so long troubled the islands.

Because of this alone, his victory was widely forecast. How much this verdict stands also as a rebuke to Quirino is something to be settled only by the searching scrutiny of voting results which will come with time.

Magsaysay charged throughout his campaign that Quirino's regime was shot through with graft and corruption, that high officials and their relatives had lined their pockets well during his tenure in office. He declared also that Quirino had been lax in pushing for new schools, roads, agricultural and other reforms.

The president denied corruption and cited a number of industrial and public projects, admittedly helped by American aid, as proof his regime was progressive.

Possibly the voters were influenced by two special factors affecting Quirino. One was his health and age. He is 63, and so ailing he had a doctor and nurse in tow at all times during the campaign.

The other is the fact that under the Philippine constitution, he could have served only two more years, since he has already served eight and there is a 10-year limit. His vice presidential running mate would have succeeded him after two years.

U. S. officials presumably feel that Magsaysay, with his powerful hold on the people, will assure the Philippines of a more stable government ahead. His record almost guarantees he will be a stout foe of communism, a vital requirement in the vulnerable Orient.

All aside from the outcome, this election must be viewed as heartening to the entire free world. It was a demonstration of real democracy at work in the Far East, a quarter of the globe sorely in need of such a practical display of the meaning of freedom.

We increased our coffee imports last year nearly four million pounds over the year before. No wonder we stayed up later.

THANKSGIVING COLLECTION

The New York Archdiocesan Thanksgiving Collection for clothing and money will open Sunday, November 22 with an envelope collection in the Catholic churches and continue through the week with clothing donations in the parishes.

Sponsored by the Catholic Bishops of the United States under the auspices of War Relief Services, the money and supplies will be distributed without regard to race, color or creed.

More than 30,000,000 pounds of clothing has been collected in the United States and distributed free to war victims and refugees since the start of the nationwide Thanksgiving Clothing Collection.

This year's donations for the less fortunate overseas are expected to exceed the amount collected in other years.

A MILLION TURKEYS

Turkey production in New York State will top the million mark this year for the first time. Even with this huge crop, however, the state turkey raisers will not raise enough birds to meet the demand, and only one out of six turkeys gracing the Thanksgiving tables in the state will be New York bred.

There are approximately 500 turkey farms in the state which raise the turkeys according to the most scientific methods, a far cry from the days when they were allowed to roam freely and pick up their meals in hap-

THE FBI AT WORK

The attempt to foist responsibility in the Harry Dexter White case upon the FBI will fail because of the law, the operations of the FBI and the facts. The FBI got into this particular situation by sending a routine report to the President, Harry Truman, and to the Attorney General, Tom Clark, now a justice of the Supreme Court.

A routine report from the FBI is never a brief, an opinion, an obiter dictum, a decision. It is the product of investigation and evaluation. The FBI is not a police force, a Gestapo, or an NKVD. It must be remembered that the FBI is not the sole investigative agency of limited jurisdiction; the Secret Service, the Narcotics Bureau, the CIA, the Immigration Bureau are similar agencies performing specific investigative duties.

Saboteurs, subversives come under the charge of the FBI. A raw file is kept into which go all kinds of data, some of value, some at the moment worthless, some hard fact, some rumor, hearsay and gossip. Information comes to such an agency as the FBI from many sources: its own operatives; undercover agents who voluntarily risk themselves to serve their country; citizens who write letters; cooperating police forces; crackpots who hate individuals, etc., etc.

All this material needs to be evaluated and the evaluation corroborated by skillful persons who know the entire subject matter into which the particular individual under investigation fits. When a report is sent to a President, an Attorney General, or to the head of some other department of government, it is not a formal complaint for indictment such as a local police department might make to a local prosecuting attorney. It is merely a statement of fact upon which the President or the Attorney General may or may not decide to act. Such reports are routine.

The FBI is not an information bureau to which a citizen can apply for information. It is the investigative agency of the Department of Justice. If a citizen desires information, he should go to the Department of Justice. In some matters, such as an annual report on crime in the United States, or the rise and fall of juvenile delinquency, or the nature of the Communist conspiracy, J. Edgar Hoover issues reports to the public, makes speeches and writes magazine articles, but the FBI never opens its files to anyone. Although some citizens are willing to cooperate with this agency, they find that this does not entitle them to a reward in the form of a quid pro quo.

It is important to note that since J. Edgar Hoover has been at the head of the FBI, it has not once been involved in a scandal; it has not once been involved in a leak; no subversives have been found to have infiltrated it.

Attacks on the FBI have been few. The worst book by Max Lowenthal, entitled "The Federal Bureau of Investigation," which seems to be a spite book. Max Lowenthal is a close friend of Harry Truman; in fact, he is reputed to have been responsible for maneuvering Truman into the Vice Presidency. It is known that Harry Truman has been antagonistic to the FBI for several reasons, including the Kansas City election frauds case, in which the ballot boxes were destroyed by an explosion, thus eliminating the principal evidence.

Max Lowenthal, Truman's friend, devotes a 559-page book to an attack on the FBI and particularly Hoover. He summarizes Truman's dislike for Hoover in this paragraph:

"There are some indications, however, that the views (praising Hoover) are not universally held by Americans interested in effective counter-espionage. President Truman, when he set up the CIA (Central Intelligence Agency) as a new espionage and counter-espionage organization, disregarded suggestions that Mr. Hoover should become the head of any such super-intelligence organization. In 1950, when the President made a new appointment to the post, he again disregarded the suggestion that Mr. Hoover be promoted to that position. Indeed, when the President created the CIA he went further and withdrew from the FBI the authority it had possessed for seven years in counter-espionage work throughout Central and South America."

The Harry Dexter White Case, like the Alger Hiss and the Rosenberg cases, establishes the fact that the FBI has been alert while the White House was concerned with cover up.

That Body of Yours

SKIN ERUPTIONS

Two physicians, friends of mine, both middle-aged, have recently retired from general practice and are giving their whole time to industrial medicine, one at a large factory and the other at a large department store. They have regular hours, fair vacations, and treat the workers and families for all manner of illnesses, and for surgery, obstetrics and gynecology. They are kept busy but enjoy the regular hours and can plan week ends or other short or long vacations.

Many of us who often think of office or factory workers spreading communicable diseases because of the general use of washbasins, will be surprised to learn that skin diseases are not as common as one would expect.

In The Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. George E. Morris, Boston, Assistant Clinical Professor of Dermatology, Tufts College Medical School, states that skin eruptions among office workers are not common and thus have been seldom reported but as they comprise 2 per cent of illnesses reported to the industrial physician, more literature and information on skin eruptions should be on hand.

"Prior to this writing, infrequent reference has been noted to unconnected cases of dermatitis (inflammation of the skin) from carbon paper, glue, and typewriter ribbons." Dr. Morris reports an analysis of 1,213 patients he treated, all of whose dermatoses were proved to be caused by industrial factors. Among them were 36 office workers who contacted the conditions as follows: 4 from carbon paper, 5 from various machine dyes and inks and the chemicals used to remove them, 1 from paper (a) a green rubber blotter and green leatherette towels, together with 6 interesting cases caused by chairs, (b) 3 from rubber thumbs, (c) one due to the lead in a pencil, and (d) one due to a liquid soap used in the office. I believe all will agree that these cases of skin eruptions were caused by substances — blotters, paper, cardboard — which would not ordinarily come under suspicion.

Conclusion: "When a patient complains of a rash that he believes to be due to something encountered in his work, it is only prudent to test him with various materials with which he comes in daily contact. Dermatitis from rubber bands has not been emphasized as a cause of contact dermatitis. Failure to consider all the factors present was the reason why 11 dermatologists, including Dr. Morris, missed the diagnosis in the case caused by carbon paper."

The suggestion that all materials used should be tested is, therefore, in order.

G-G-Ghost Story

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington (NEA)—The forthcoming effort to build up Vice President Richard M. Nixon as the logical successor to President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1956 would seem to have historical precedents against its success.

Only three U. S. vice presidents have succeeded to the presidency by direct election and all of them were in the early years of the republic. John Adams succeeded George Washington. Thomas Jefferson succeeded John Adams. Martin Van Buren succeeded Andrew Jackson.

In the six other instances in which vice presidents have stepped into the Chief Executive's job, they have done so on the death of the President.

Tour for Reporters

National Association of Electric Companies, the so-called electric power lobby, is taking a plane load of reporters around the country to show them the private enterprise side of the public power issue.

First scheduled stop is Niagara Falls, where the newsmen will be guests of the five companies contesting New York Power Authority's development. Next stop San Francisco, where Pacific Gas and Electric Co. will be host. Then Portland, where Pacific Power and Light will take over. Two days will be spent at Boise as guests of Idaho Power and Light, which is applying for certificate to build three dams on the Snake River in place of the one high Hell's Canyon dam.

At Spokane, Washington Water Power Co. will tell its story and a trip may be made into Montana where Montana Power Co. is the big producer. Last stop will be at Denver, for Colorado Public Service Co.

Price of Public Service

Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge recently instructed all government agencies to start charging more for the services they give the public. The idea, long under study by the Budget Bureau, is to stop giving something for next to nothing and to cut government expenses.

Department of Labor, however, has just announced it is cutting the fees for contracting Mexican labor for the big farms and ranches of the southwest from $11 to $6 a head. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell admits that it costs the government far more than this to bring Mexican laborers to the U. S. But he was forced to take this action to reduce a revolving fund set up by Congress for this purpose, before the law expires at the end of 1955.

Hail Pipe Smokers

Pipe and Tobacco Council is running a poll to select the ten most distinguished pipe smokers. Many of the nominees are Washington characters, including Cyrus Ching, who has a big, curved stem pipe in his mouth practically every waking minute that he isn't eating or washing his face.

Another continuous pipe smoker is Uncle Billy Leiserson, former railway labor mediator, but he smokes mostly matches. He lights up, takes one puff and then lights up again.

Other Washington pipe smokers of note are J. Edgar Hoover, Allen Dulles of Central Intelligence, Senators Herbert Lehman of New York and Willis Robertson of Virginia.

Newsmen Pick Governors

Another poll to pick the five best state governors in the U. S. named three on the retiring list for top places. No. 1 was Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. No. 2 was ex-Gov. Earl Warren of California, now Chief Justice of the United States. No. 3 was Gov. Alfred Driscoll of New Jersey. All are Republicans.

Governors Al Shivers of Texas and Frank Lausche of Ohio placed fourth and fifth. Governors James F. Byrnes of South Carolina and G. Mennen Williams of Michigan tied for sixth. The last four are Democrats.

The five worst governors were voted to be John S. Fine of Pennsylvania, Herman Talmadge of Georgia, Charles Russell of Nevada, Edwin L. Mechem of New Mexico and Edward F. Arn of Kansas.

Odds and Ends

Among the more recent inventions on which U. S. patents have been granted are:

An artificial leg with hydraulic shock absorbers for easier walking.

A barber's brush which feeds the talcum powder into the bristles from the handle.

A machine which automatically slits and cleans poultry giblets.

A special collar which fits onto a saucer to keep coffee from dripping off the cup.

A woman's handbag that plays music every time it's opened.

A plastic bag for beer barrels.

St. Remy

St. Remy, Nov. 18—The Christmas party for the children in the St. Remy Fire District will be held in the fire hall at 2 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 20. Families which were not contacted are requested to leave the names of children and their ages at the post office or contact Harry Hanlin. Families which would like to donate to the party are asked to leave donations at the post office.

Max Lowenthal was one of Harry Truman's closest advisers.

"Now Lowenthal's name is coming up again and witnesses before congressional committees have taken the position that know Lowenthal would incriminate Silvermaster and Webster to have known him?"

Next let us weigh a paragraph by Victor Riesel, a pro-unionist but anti-Communist pundit of the package-goods trade:

Communist Infiltration to Be 1954 Congressional Vote Issue

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 20—Certainly the Communist infiltration in the government during the Truman administration will be an issue in the 1954 congressional elections—for the simple reason that the Democrats involuntarily are making it an issue.

The Democrats under the Truman-Stevenson leadership are still taking the side of the argument that the Communist infiltration was exaggerated and that it was always just a political "Red Herring." Likewise, these same Democrats evidently believe that "anti-mccarthyism" — which they have been expounding for some months now—is good as a political issue. This means that the Republicans naturally will counter with charges of lack of vigor by the Democratic administration—promptly jumps on the Republicans and says American prestige has been injured. As one former American diplomat here said the other day: "Never has so much prestige been lost so often."

What Europeans think of Americans is colored by the "left wingers" aboard plus a number of disgruntled Americans who have been fired from their posts in an attempt to reduce the waste of American taxpayers' money.

Fortunately, Lord Beaverbrook and other publishers abroad are beginning to see the anti-Communist fight inside America as something more than "hysteria," fomented allegedly by those who want to deprive innocent persons of their liberties. Fortunately also, the knowledge that Klaus Fuchs, a British citizen, was cleared by the British Government to work in an American atomic energy project and then transmitted the secret of the atom bomb to Soviet Russia is beginning to take a rightful place in the controversy over whether enough vigilance has been exercised by the press in some of the countries where criticism of America is so often voiced.

The whole controversy over Communists inside the American, British and Canadian governments is a tragic one, and it is evident that Attorney General Brownell's speech was timely. For there are too many on the Democratic side who still pooh-pooh the whole thing as a "red herring" for political purposes. That's why,

DESIGN FOR ATOMIC POWER—A simplified explanation of how the atomic power plant for the nation's first atom-powered sub will operate is offered by this model "mock-up" designed by Westinghouse, and placed on display in New York. When installed in the U.S.S. Nautilus, heat generated by splitting of the atom will be transmitted by fluid in a sealed, coiled pipe, to a "heat exchanger," or boiler. Steam will be formed in the water-filled boiler, pass through piping to the steam turbine, which will drive an electric generator to power the sub's electric motors. Spent steam will be condensed, pumped back to the heat exchanger. Demonstrating the power plant is Robert Dillion.

Prowler Under Bed

Oklahoma City (AP)—Mrs. Minnie Slaton, 43, Oklahoma City, was puzzled when two policemen banging on her front door awoke her. They pointed out a window screen had been cut and the window was open. The front and back doors also were open although Mrs. Slaton said she had locked them. The policemen looked under the bed in which Mrs. Slaton had been sleeping, and found a 15-year-old boy who admitted breaking in to look for money.

Thrill Maker from start to stop
(That's T.T. Dynaflow!)

SOMETIMES soon—like this week you ought to try a Buick with Twin-Turbine Dynaflow.*

You ought to try it just to be familiar with the great advance in this fully automatic transmission that Buick engineers have accomplished.

You ought to try it just for the fun of bossing a drive where you don't do a blessed thing but steer and press the gas or the brake pedal as you go.

But, pure and simple, you ought to try it for thrills.

We mean the thrill of instant getaway response—with two turbines doing the job that one did before.

We mean the thrill of whisper-quiet acceleration—where you barely hear the sound of power build-up, or of flowing oil at work.

And, most emphatically, we mean the thrill of perfect and sublime smoothness from start to stop—the thrill of moving from standstill to and through all travel ranges in one, progressive, infinitely smooth forward "carry" without a gear ever shifting or a clutch-pedal pushed—the thrill, rarely found elsewhere, of silky smoothness in deceleration, too.

Will you be our guest at a sampling of a Buick with TT Dynaflow?

Will you try the sweetest, the smoothest and the simplest-to-operate automatic transmission yet devised—and powered by the highest-compression engines in Buick history, including the world's newest V8 in SUPER and ROADMASTER models?

Drop in on us this week and we'll be happy to accommodate you.

One of the nice things about playing tournament bridge is that you don't need to get upset over a hand that breaks very badly. The hand will be played at many other tables, and everybody will encounter the same bad breaks. You are therefore no worse off than anybody else.

Suppose you played today's hand at rubber bridge. You would win the opening club lead in dummy, cash the ace of spades, and then lead a low diamond to your king in order to draw some more trumps.

You would be a very unhappy bridge player when you discovered the 5-1 trump break. It takes as bad a break as this to beat you, and the odds are 5 to 1 against getting that bad a trump break.

When the hand was actually played in the recent New Orleans tournament, it was bid to all sorts of slams in spades, diamonds, and no-trump. The bidding shown with the hand was that of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burden of New Orleans. They were disappointed at the bad trump break, to be sure, but they got a very good score for being minus only 50 points on so troublesome a hand.

Most of the other North-South pairs were down two tricks at six spades. All such contracts led to a deficit of more than 50 points on the North-South cards.

The contract of six spades, if

As Pegler Sees It

man in a Chicago pent-house suite some eight years ago. He had come because Sidney Hillman . . . had sent word he'd like to see the Missouri senator. What was said then has been off the record 'secret' . . . Unbeknown to Truman or Hillman, the conversation had been recorded by a couple of fellows who may yet be arrested for their services to the Soviet Union. Truman positively knew none but Hillman who told him the CIO's first choice for vice-president was Wallace. But failing that, CIO would swing to Truman to beat Byrnes. But of course, Hillman said, naturally the CIO wanted a friend. The senator gave his word. As vice-president and president, he never broke it. And for years, an intimate friend of Hillman's, chap by name of Max Lowenthal, has given the President advice and guidance on many of his most vital decisions. Mr. Lowenthal's role is under-emphasized here. He has developed such influence over Mr. Truman that the President's advisers have had to establish a methodical surveillance system to make certain that national policies were not reversed and high officials fired because of Mr. Lowenthal's political whims."

Congressman George Dondero, of Michigan, as reported in the Congressional Record of Sept. 1, 1950, spoke as follows:

"I want to discuss a man of mystery and for the first time take off the mask behind which he has been hiding for years . . . he works through others. He has reached pinnacles of great power. Today I bring into the open and introduce Max Lowenthal."

Dondero recorded the many influential jobs which Lowenthal had held, dating from 1917, and said:

"By pulling strings he acquired the title of adviser on disposal of Jewish property to General Clay, in Germany. He had an assistant, George Shaw Wheeler, the American traitor, Communist and renegade who denounced the land of his birth and asked Communist-controlled Czechoslovakia for asylum. The usually accurate 'human events' for Sept. 25, 1946, reported, 'it may be coincidence but since Lowenthal's appointment, General Clay has permitted leaders of the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Workers' party to address meetings in the American zone.'

David R. Wahl was a protege of Lowenthal in the foreign economic administration. The files of the Civil Service Commission and the committee on Un-American Activities reveal him as one whose loyalty has been questioned and one with powerful forces who came to his aid."

In his own appearance before the House Committee, Lowenthal said he hardly knew Wheeler and, with the artistic intrusion of ex-Senator Burd Wheeler, of Montana, acting as his counsel, managed to duck all questions about Wahl. He did say that certain "groups" had desired his mission to help General Clay in Germany but, with Wheeler running interference and breaking up the committee's play, Lowenthal left the stand without naming those "groups."

you consider only the North-South hands, is best. It will succeed if the spades are no worse than 4-2, whereas six-no-trump needs a 3-3 break in either spades or diamonds.

An interesting point in the bidding is the response of five clubs to the Blackwood bid of four no-trump. In expert circles, the response of five clubs is used to show either no aces at all or four aces. If your partner can't tell which is the case, he shouldn't be allowed to use the Blackwood Convention.

$2,100 Is Needed
For Yule Lights

Saugerties, Nov. 18—In an announcement from Albert L. Giannotti, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce street decorating and lighting and Christmas party committee, it was learned that letters are in the mail requesting contribution to finance the Yule lighting project.

The cost of the lighting was set at $2,100 and the committee said that contributions also may be made to members of the committee which includes Mrs. Irene Roming, Franklin P. Clum, Sr., Dr. Irving Dreispoon, Willett Overbaugh, Ralph Ricketson, Robert S. Russell, John C. Sauer, Herman L. Snyder, and Andrew P. Vozdik. Giannotti said that the decorating of the village streets for the Christmas observance will be completed by Dec. 1 and according to the contract guiding the project, 80 per cent of the cost must be paid by that time.

Zoning Ordinances
Discussed by Board

Saugerties, Nov. 18—The regular meeting of the Saugerties Village Board was held Monday night at the board rooms in the municipal building. The board is arranging to investigate the feasibility of setting up zoning ordinances. This need for zoning was brought out by Andrew P. Vozdik, president of the local chamber of commerce when it was learned the IBM proposes building a plant outside the city of Kingston. Vozdik said that residents who build or purchase property should have some assurance that the value of such property will not be jeopardized. The board wishing to learn more about the matter of zoning is making contact with the New York State Conference of Mayors for information relating to the subject. Permission was also asked and granted by the board to conduct an air raid test Wednesday, Dec. 30. Civilian Defense authorities, under the leadership of Ben Sanford, who is Civil Defense Director of the town of Saugerties, made the request. Before the test can be held permission must be granted by the county Civilian Defense Authorities and also the state authorities.

Scouts Get Awards

Saugerties, Nov. 18—The Cub Scouting basic training course which was held at St. John's Episcopal Church Hall in Kingston was completed Friday night. Awards were made to scouts who completed the course and had perfect attendance. Those who received attendance awards included Mrs. Irene Roming, May Ormandy, William Ormandy, and Hugh Legg. All are affiliated with Pack 130 of Saugerties. William Leehee, leadership training chairman for the Rip Van Winkle Council presented the certificates denoting completion of training.

Yule Party Planned

Saugerties, Nov. 18—The mothers auxiliary of Troop 32 held a meeting at Atonement Lutheran church hall Monday night and formulated plans for the Troop 32 Christmas party which has been scheduled for Monday, Dec. 21.

Town Notes

Saugerties, Nov. 18—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tobiaissen and children of Schenectady were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Schlenker of West Camp. Mrs. Tobiaissen is the daughter of the Schlenkers. Mr. Tobiaissen accompanied Mr. Schlenker on a deer hunt in the local area.

Marie Carroll, wife of M. Lawrence Carroll of Malden, is improving since her operation at Benedictine Hospital, Kingston.

Lewis J. Payette has returned to his home on Ulster avenue after a brief stay with his brother in Cleveland, O.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marzel Roming of Main street this week were Anton Assmann and Birger Lunden of Staten Island. They are spending the week deer hunting in the area.

SMALL MIRACLE

The other day a reader in Montreal sent me a Christmas story and suggested I run it during the holidays. It so happens, however, that I'm one of those Nosey Neds who rip a package open as soon as it arrives, and so I hope my Canadian contributor will pardon me if I rush the season a bit...

Last December 23rd, a bouncy little oldster named Poulinot was discharged from a Montreal hospital where he had been bedded for a month with pleurisy. As he boarded a bus for the 60-mile trip to the village in which he lived, the old man's spirits were as low as the laces in his lumberjack boots. First off, he was broke. Second, Christmas was only two days away.

For years — ever since he had stopped working as a cook in the lumber camps to the north — Christmas has meant a great deal to Poulinot. Proud of his old-time skill with stove and griddle, he had been in the habit of inviting a group of his cronies to the abandoned fishing shack in which he lived. Where he would serve them a turkey, backwoods style, and serve them all the Montrachet ale they could drink while they swapped lumberjack yarns and sang old songs.

Poulinot usually got the money to pay for this feast by taking on a few odd jobs in the fall to supplement his Canadian old-age pension of $40 a month. This year, however, he hadn't been strong enough to look for extra work, and the December pension payment had barely taken care of his hospital bills...

The bus took him as far as the general store in the village, and he walked the rest of the way to his shack which was on the edge of a lake. When he opened the front door, he was surprised to find his place was a mess — it was evident that someone had been living there while he was gone. The bedding was mussed, several cans of beans had been opened, and there were empty ale bottles in a corner.

Cutting out the trespassers, the old man lit a fire and began straightening things up. As he picked up a pile of old newspapers, something small and green dropped to the floor. It was five five-dollar bills held together by a paper clip.

Had his uninvited guests left the money by mistake or in payment for bed and the canned

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 19—Although I own a 12,000-acre ranch in Florida, I have never gone in for livestock raising; hence, I am by no means an expert on this branch of agriculture. What I have to say on the subject is purely from the layman's point of view.

The cattle business is an up-and-down affair, and is one in which the inexperienced operator can lose his shirt. For about a dozen years and a half the cattle industry prospered. Everyone in it was making money, and as a consequence everyone wanted "to get into the act" with or without experience. The big operators also expanded, despite high prices for stockers and feeders. Cattle numbers increased rapidly, until the number on U. S. farms hit an all-time high of 93,696,000 head as of January 1, 1953. The number on feed on that date also stood at a record high of 5,836,000 head—16 per cent above a year earlier. The cattle cycle trend cannot quickly be altered.

Attractive prices were the chief expansion lure. Weekly average cattle prices had soared to $37.35 a hundredweight by September, 1951. In April, 1951, prices of heavy steers at Chicago stood at $43.50. But trouble in the form of drought was brewing in the Southwest. Prolonged hot, dry weather scorched the Southwest and other areas in 1952 and 1953. Pastures virtually evaporated. Feed shortages mounted in the stricken areas. Many ranchers had no alternative but to rush their cattle to the market. As a result, the bottom fell out. Cattle prices at Chicago recently averaged $25.40; heavy steer prices $29.75. Many cattle raisers today are in serious difficulty.

Action and Reaction

The Law of Action and Reaction applies as much to the cattle industry as it does to any other industry, or to the entire national economy. Over-expansion in any direction inevitably leads to a readjustment, which often is painful. We appear to be at or near a cyclical peak in the number of cattle; the next broad move will be down. Even so, the number of cattle on farms next January may not differ materially from that of a year earlier. This means that slaughter and supplies of beef will continue large, seasonal factors considered. Bearish factors, however, now appear to be fairly well discounted, barring a further serious drought or a sharp business recession. Florida surely should do better.

Many cattle producers are asking for Government support; but many others want to stand on their own feet and see the thing through. I doubt that Uncle Sam will support cattle prices; but may extend aid to drought-stricken sections. Smart cattle men who tend their own cattle, with ample pasture and feed, should be able to make money in cattle next year. But it remains an uncertain enterprise for the inexperienced and those who do not ride the ranches themselves. It is fraught with risk, yet full of challenge for the man with live stock in his blood and knowhow in his head.

Hog Growers Doing All Right
The hog cycle is a short-term affair and is more closely under the control of the producer than is the case with cattle. The so-called hog-corn ratio is the determining factor. U. S. hog production hit a record high of 101,811,000 head in 1951. This year's indicated crop of some 84,000,000 head is a five-year low and prices have been correspondingly higher, in fact, than in any other years except 1947 and 1948.

What is the outlook for next year? With the hog-corn ratio currently around 15.0 compared with 11.9 a year ago, I forecast an increase in hog production. The 1954 spring pig crop may top that of a year earlier by 5 per cent or more. These larger supplies will not come on the market until the second half of next year. Prices in the fall of 1954, as a result of increased marketings, may show more than the usual seasonal decline. Although hog prices currently are under mild seasonal pressure, they should be followed by a good recovery later.

What About Sheep?

I am not optimistic over the sheep outlook. The industry has been on the downgrade in the U. S. since 1942. Feeble attempts at expansion were made in 1951 and 1952, but were not sustained. Increased production costs, plus stiff competition from foreign wool and synthetic fibers, argue against any major upturn in domestic sheep numbers over the next few years.

Mrs. Leopold Named

Washington, Nov. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Alice K. Leopold has been named to succeed Miss Frieda S. Miller as director of the Women's Bureau of the Department of Labor. The appointment by President Eisenhower yesterday is subject to Senate confirmation after Congress meets in January. The job pays $10,330 a year. Miss Miller, with the bureau since 1944, has resigned. In a letter to her, Secretary of Labor Mitchell praised "the high quality of your work over the years." Mrs. Leopold, a Republican, is secretary of state for Connecticut. She is a member and secretary of the presidential commission studying the overlapping functions of the federal and state governments.

Storm Causes 13 Deaths

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 20 (AP)—A freak snow and rainstorm sweeping the eastern Mediterranean reportedly has caused at least 13 deaths and wrought destruction through the ancient lands along its shores. Twelve persons were reported killed in Alexandria, Egypt's chief seaport, when heavy gales the past two days tumbled houses. In southern Lebanon, a farmer was killed when high winds blew him onto rocks. Lebanese officials said it least 32 persons, including 17 girl goatherds, were missing as that Biblical land shivered under its fourth straight night of heavy rains and snows. Roads were blocked by snowdrifts.

Four miles down in the ocean the pressure is 4½ tons to the square inch.

Charleston Team in Kapers

John R. Shultz and Mrs. Christopher Morris are dancing the Charleston, one of the scenes to be presented during the Kiwanis Kapers at the Kingston High School auditorium on Monday and Tuesday evenings, Nov. 23 and 24, at 8:30 o'clock. The show is based upon college life of the 1920's. Proceeds are used for the club's scholarship and welfare funds.

Urine Specimens Still Acceptable In Diabetes Check

In an effort to bring to light the many unsuspected cases of diabetes, the Ulster County Medical Society, in cooperation with the American Diabetes Association, invites every resident of Ulster county to have a simple test for diabetes.

Urine specimens in clean containers or bottles, one to four ounce size, clearly labeled with the name and address, and the name of the family physician, may still be brought to any drug store in Ulster county.

In the town of Shandaken, Gordon's Pharmacy, and in Pine Hill, Harry Allan's store, will act as local collection centers.

Picked Up Daily
Specimens are picked up daily and brought to the Kingston City Laboratory by volunteers of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ulster County Medical Society. The actual testing will be done at the Kingston City Laboratory.

The schools of the city of Kingston and Oteora Central will furnish each student with a paper container to avoid danger of glass breakage.

Oteora Central School has arranged for their own testing facilities, under supervision of Mrs. Hazel Osborn, school nurse, and with cooperation of the school physicians, Dr. Bieber, Dr. Le-Paige and Dr. Quinn.

Reports of positive test results only will be made to the individual family physician who will carry out further tests to make absolutely certain whether or not diabetes is actually present.

New Hurley

New Hurley, Nov. 18—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell spent Tuesday at the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Barr in Middletown.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Anderson were recent callers at the home of their cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson in Newburgh. Mrs. Crosby J. Wilkin, Mrs. Agnes Downs, Mrs. Edna DuBois and Miss Bertha Sutton enjoyed a trip to Lenox, Mass., Thursday and visited with Mrs. Down's sister-in-law and niece, Miss Agnes Downs and Miss Margaret Downs.

Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Garrison and Nicholas T. Cocks were dinner guests Saturday at the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hand at Mountainville.

Choir rehearsal will be held at the church Thursday at 8 p.m.

The young people will meet Sunday night Nov. 22 at the home of Viola De Pew. Lois Powell will lead the devotions. The topic is Blessings We Often Forget.

There will be a Thanksgiving Eve service at the New Hurley Church Wednesday, Nov. 25, at 8 p.m.

The Consistory will meet in the Memorial Chapel Monday night, Nov. 30. This is one week earlier so that all reports will be ready for the congregational meeting.

The net proceeds from the turkey supper held at the church hall under the auspices of the Young Women's Club amounted to $383.11.

The annual congregational meeting of the New Hurley Church will be held in the church hall Tuesday, Dec. 8th. Election of elders and deacons will take place. Terms expiring are Elder Gerow Wilkin, four years; Elder Elmer Fries two years; Deacon Roscoe Pickens, four years;

K of C Announces Broadcast Series

The Sacred Heart program, sponsored by Kingston Council, 275, Knights of Columbus, will be presented over Radio Station WKLY each day, Monday through Saturday, at 6 a.m., November 23-28.

At 8:30 a.m. this Sunday the Ave Maria program will be broadcast over the local station.

It will portray the life of St. George as he actually lived before the "dragnet" era. According to the announcement by the Graymoor Friars who produce the program, St. George was born in Cappadocia, a province in Asia Minor, near the end of the third century. He was chosen as the patron for Boy Scouts because every point of the Scout law was lived by this gallant defender of truth and virtue.

He was loyal to the emperor, but more loyal to God. His courtesy won him the respect of all, so that he was advanced to the first ranks of the army. His bravery and courage were shown when he reproached Emperor Diocletian for the unjust laws he passed against the Christians. His life was the price for choosing God instead of the favor of the emperor.

Hugo Wessler Gives Talk at Zion Church

Hugo Wessler was guest speaker at a service held Wednesday, Nov. 11, at the Franklin Street AME Zion Church.

In a two-part address, Mr. Wessler spoke at length on the subject, The Negro in our Modern Society, and the topic, The Child, the Parents, the Home.

In his first topic, Mr. Wessler urged the ministers of the churches in the Negro communities to help prepare persons to hold positions of responsibility in teaching and civil service posts. Mr. Wessler also recommended that the scope of employment opportunities in Kingston be broadened considerably.

In his second topic, Mr. Wessler pointed out the fact that "the primary function of institutions for delinquents, whether public or private, become centers of constructive training and treatment to the end that children may return to their communities prepared to make adequate adjustments to the requirements of family life." In analyzing the factors which cause delinquency, Mr. Wessler concluded that "the world of tomorrow may be a sorry picture indeed, unless the tragic plight of many of our children of today is speedily and effectively improved."

Celebrating 50th Wedding Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. SCOTT CONRO

Mr. and Mrs. Scott H. Conro of 166 Smith avenue were honored on their golden wedding anniversary by an open-house party Wednesday, given by their daughter, Miss Adisca E. Conro. The Conros were wed November 18, 1903 at the home of the bride in Grand Gorge, by the Rev. Augustus A. Walker. (Freeman Photo).

Miss Ida La Forge, William Kilmer, Jr. Nuptials Held

Miss Ida La Forge, daughter of Harold La Forge of Rifton and the late Mrs. La Forge, was united in marriage to William Kilmer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kilmer, Sr., of 63 Ponckhockie street.

The wedding took place at the First Baptist Church on Albany avenue at 4 p. m., Saturday, Nov. 14. The Rev. Donald E. Brown officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a grey suit with red accessories and a white corsage.

Mrs. George Dewhurst, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a navy blue suit with matching accessories and a pink corsage.

George Dewhurst, EM2 USN, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man.

The couple left immediately following the ceremony on a wedding trip to upper New York state.

Mrs. Kilmer is employed at Phillips Sportswear and Mr. Kilmer is employed at the DeLaval Separator Co. in Poughkeepsie.

The couple will make their home temporarily with the parents of the bridegroom.

A CUSTOM NEW TO ME

A soon-to-be-bride writes me: "It is customary among my relatives to give the bride money for a wedding present, and it is given to her on the day of the wedding as they go down the receiving line to wish the bride happiness. I never did think much of this custom and always dreaded having to be placed in this position. It is very embarrassing to be handed an envelope with money in it and, in my opinion, makes the one receiving it appear to be accepting charity. Is there any way I can possibly avoid this at my wedding?"

I have never heard of a custom such as you have described, but since it is an established one amongst your relatives, I don't see how you can break it, and it should not embarrass you. You should, however, have a member of your family stand near you who can take charge of the envelopes for you.

He Dislikes Gloves

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to be married at a morning wedding and he as well as the other men in the wedding party are going to wear striped trousers and cutaway coats. Will you please tell me if it is absolutely necessary for them to wear gloves, or may they be omitted? The groom and best man would like not to have to wear them as they think they will be very clumsy during the ceremony.

Answer: Unless the wedding preparations are very formal gloves could very well be omitted.

When "Mr." Is Correct

Dear Mrs. Post: When calling a business office and the telephone operator asks, "Who is calling?" what is the proper reply to make?

Would it be correct to answer, "Mr. John Brown is calling" or should the title be omitted?

Answer: It is quite proper to announce himself as Mr. John Brown to a stranger. To a social acquaintance, and of course to a friend, he would omit the title.

An afternoon tea is the most popular as well as the simplest expression of hospitality. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but her leaflet E-27 includes full details on preparing and serving at tea. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Dr. Wesley N. Haines

The first annual communion breakfast for the men of the First Baptist Church will be held Sunday, Nov. 22, at 7:30 a. m. Sponsored by the Men's Club, the breakfast will feature an address by the Rev. Dr. Wesley N. Haines, assistant to the president of Keuka College, Keuka Park. Dr. Haines will address the group on the topic, The Mind of the Young Master.

A frequent and popular speaker at conventions, teachers' institutes and service clubs across New York state, Dr. Haines brings to his audiences a wide background of experience and interests. Educated at Brown University, Colgate-Rochester Divinity School and Harvard University, he has held important positions in both denominational and interdenominational religious work. His special interests in folklore and native American humor makes his addresses entertaining as well as challenging and inspirational. An ordained Baptist minister, Dr. Haines has served churches in Swissville, Pa., and Freeport.

Dr. Haines, in addition to his duties as assistant to the president of Keuka College, holds the chair of Professor of Religion as well. He is an active Rotarian, having served as president of the Penn Yan Rotary Club in 1951-52.

All men of the First Baptist Church and their friends are cordially invited to this service.

Norman Swibold is chairman of ticket sales; Albert Sonnenberg, publicity; and Edward Safford, program. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Men's Club.

Patricia Mary Mower, Joseph Peckovitch

Married in Veteran

Miss Patricia Mary Mower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mower of Veteran was united in marriage to Joseph Anthony Peckovitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Peckovitch of Cementon at St. Thomas Church in Veteran on Sunday, Nov. 15 at 2 p. m. The Rev. Louis A. Stryker, pastor performed the ceremony.

The church was decorated with white pompons and the pews were marked with white ribbons.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white lace ballerina-length gown fashioned with a fitted jacket. It was accented with a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves ending in points over the wrist. The bouffant skirt was decorated with a scalloped hem. The headpiece was lace trimmed with seed pearls and supported a French illusion veil. The bride carried a cascade of white pompons with an orchid in the center.

The maid of honor, Joan Mower, sister of the bride was attired in a waltz-length honeycomb gown with nylon tulle bodice and bolero and bouffant skirt of nylon tulle over taffeta with matching headpiece. She carried a cascade of bronze and yellow pompons.

John Peckovitch, brother of the bridegroom was the best man and Raymond Maclay, brother-in-law of the bridegroom and Raymond Mower, brother of the bride acted as ushers.

The organist and soloist was Miss Ann Walbroehl who played the traditional wedding hymns and sang Ave Maria and Bless Us, O Lord.

After the ceremony a reception for more than 300 people was held at the Pleasant Valley Inn on Saugerties-Kingston road. Johnny Mayone and his orchestra supplied the music for dancing. The PVI dining room was decorated with traditional wedding bells and bouquets.

The bride attended St. Mary's School and Saugerties High School.

The bridegroom, who is now employed with a construction company active on the Thruway, attended Cementon School and St. Patrick's Academy in Catskill.

For the wedding journey to New York the bride's traveling outfit consisted of a gray suit with black accessories and a blue coat with an orchid corsage.

The newlyweds will make their home on Overbaugh street in Saugerties.

Weight Reduction Class Announces Success of Plan

A low calorie turkey dinner, with no hidden calories, cranberry sauce or dressing allowed, brought to a close the nine weeks' weight reduction course, sponsored by the Heart Committee of the Ulster County TB and Health Association. Following the dinner, Mrs. Joseph Deegan, chairman, announced that the weight loss of the 29 who attended, had totaled 162 pounds.

Mrs. Tecla Meinhardt and Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb, guests and former speakers, congratulated the group on their success and urged perseverance in maintaining their weight losses.

Miss Katherine M. Murphy, executive secretary of the TB Association, reviewed the purpose for which the course was organized and stressed the importance of maintaining proper weight for maximum health. Those who wished to continue with the January class registered with Miss Mary Mossman, health education assistant.

Members of the present class have found that facing their problems of obesity as a group has helped them to lose weight. For others who are interested in signing up for the January course, there are 3 prerequisites: approval from family physician; an earnest desire to lose weight; ability to attend all meetings. Anyone who is interested in joining the class may register by contacting the Ulster County TB and Health Association or by calling 1164.

Rev. Lillestolen Farewell Sunday

A farewell party has been announced for the Rev. Lars H. Lillestolen, who is leaving his pastorate at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church to accept a call to St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Greenfield Gardens, L. I.

The gathering of his congregation and friends will be held at the social hall of St. Paul's on Hasbrouck avenue, Sunday at 6:30 p. m.

Incorporated in the announcement of his leaving for another church was an expression of regret that St. Paul's will no longer be blessed with his spiritual guidance or efforts he spent in the corporal life of the church, including his social work and interest in the youth of the community.

Pastor Lillestolen has been at St. Paul's Church since 1951, and although his congregation is sorry to lose him, they wish him well in his new church, and realize that the move is a promotion in the ministerial field.

Included on the program for Sunday's farewell are addresses by the Rev. Frank L. Gollnick, DD, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, and president of the Eastern Conference of the New York Synod; and the Rev. David C. Gaise, pastor of Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer and president of the Kingston Ministerial Association. There will be solos by Mrs. Carl Knaust, accompanied by Thomas Crosby.

The hours when the meters are effective are from 8 a. m. to midnight. This differs from the city parking meter regulation which makes the meters effective from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., except on Fridays when they are effective until 9 p. m.

The company serves 95 customers under a fixture rate and 26 with metered service. It estimates the annual revenue increase under its proposed rates would be $105. No change in rates to customers served under the fixture rate classification was proposed.

Bob Browning Is First to Donate Eyes in Campaign

Bob Browning, local radio newsman, was the first person to pledge his eyes in the current Lions Club campaign to bring sight to the sightless through cornea transplants, it was announced today by George Svirsky, chairman.

The well known broadcaster remarked, as he signed the pledge card, "It is wonderful to think that some one can have sight through our eyes after we need them no longer. The eyes are not ours, they belong to God Almighty."

Browning, a disabled veteran of World War 1, noted that it has been his "fortune or misfortune" to have had a great deal of contact with disabled persons.

Worst Affliction

"Of all the disabled, I believe the blind miss the most out of life," Browning said.

That statement has all the more significance in that it came from a man who carries out the daily task of gathering news while restricted to a wheelchair and minus his left arm.

A former newspaper man, having worked on Albany and New York papers as a young man Browning served during World War 1 as a second lieutenant in the 318th Infantry, 80th Division, when he was wounded at Nantillois, France, a few miles north of Mont Foucon. On Oct. 3, 1918 he was gassed. The following morning he was shot in the arm, and later in the day was wounded in the leg.

After the war, he settled down at West Hurley, where he conducted the Tokalon Kennels. Active in town affairs, he served as assessor in the town of Hurley.

In Radio 13 Years

Recurring trouble from his war wounds, however, sent him back to a veterans hospital, and on his release 13 years ago he found he was unable to resume his former life and had to find a job where he was able to work split shifts and could rest in between. The day after the Pearl Harbor attack, he took a job with the then new local radio station, WKNY, which at the time had its studios in the Governor Clinton Hotel. At first he had one sponsor and did one newscast daily, but today his schedule opens with a sunrise newscast at 7 a. m. and ends with the final edition of local news at 6:15 p. m.

Urge Other Pledges

When he learned that it has been estimated that 10,000 sightless persons in the country can be helped by these cornea transplants, Browning expressed the hope that a sufficiently large number of persons will sign the pledges so that these blind persons can be given the gift of sight as soon as possible.

Kerhonkson Water Hearing Set Jan. 19

The State of New York Public Service Commission has suspended a proposal by Kerhonkson Water Company to revise its rate structure effective January 1 and will hold a public hearing on the matter at 2 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 19 at its Albany office, 55 Elk street, before Examiner George N. Mack.

The company had proposed to increase the quarterly minimum charge to metered customers from $4.50 to $9.50, at the same time increasing the quarterly water allowance covered by the minimum rate from 9,000 to 19,000 gallons. It also proposed to clarify its definition of multiple dwellings for rate purposes.

The company serves 95 customers under a fixture rate and 26 with metered service. It estimates the annual revenue increase under its proposed rates would be $105. No change in rates to customers served under the fixture rate classification was proposed.

Joe Ausanio's 648 Leads Major; Jim Secreto's 265 Is New Record, Jennie Spada Hits 203-551 in CRW

A couple of the lesser luminaries of the Ferraro Major League walked off with tenpin honors in the city last night.

Jimmy Secreto, captain of the Governor Clinton Market squad, cracked high single of 265 to shatter the former high of 258 held by Randy Kelder.

Joe Ausanio, the former pugilist, compiled the best 30-frame score with 648 on solos of 244, 195 and 209.

Best female score was Jennie Spada's 180-203-168-551 cluster in the Central Recreation Women's circuit.

Millie Goldstein topped both sections of the Sisterhood League with 197 high single and 160-138 for 495 series. Nellie Alverson spanked 201 and 516 to pace the Nite Cap League at New Paltz.

John Raible set the pace in the Electrol Night League with 180-243-175-598.

Levy Raps 626

Phil Levy powdered 235-202-626 and Jimmy Secreto finished with 609. Other "600" shooters included John Bailey with 614, Larry Petersen Jr. 222-632, William "Chief" Mueller 232-619, Dick Rhea 246-605. Both of the latter are Poughkeepsie residents. George Robinson completed the bracket with 242-201-612.

The results by leagues:

Bill Murray Converts 7-10

William Murray, president of the Kingston Bowling Association, joined that small coterie of keglers who have converted the 7-10 split in last night's Ferraro Major League action at the Bowldrome.

Murray achieved the rare conversion by slicing the 7-pin off the back cushion to the 10-pin.

He will receive an American Bowling Congress shoulder patch for the achievement.

Unbeaten Irish Wary of Iowa; Terps Wind Up Against Alabama

New York, Nov. 20 (AP) - Top ranking Notre Dame takes the first of its last three big steps toward an undefeated football season tomorrow when it meets Iowa, always a tough foe for the Irish.

After the Hawkeyes, Notre Dame faces Southern California and Southern Methodist. Any one of the three might stop Frank Leahy's club. Iowa has a pesky habit of breaking Notre Dame winning streaks.

Back in 1921 Iowa stopped the Irish after they had gone 22 games without defeat. In 1939 Notre Dame won six, then lost to Iowa. The same thing happened in 1940.

Southern California will have its hands full this weekend, too, when it runs up against UCLA. The Uclanians are bidding for Rose Bowl glory and need this one to be assured of at least a tie for the Pacific Coast Conference title. They could win it outright if California stops Stanford. Losses by both Stanford and UCLA would leave them tied for the crown, as would victories by both clubs.

A tie would mean a vote of the conference schools just as in the Big Ten where a deadlock also is in prospect for the eastern Rose Bowl representative. Illinois, crushed by Wisconsin a week ago, needs a decision over Northwestern tomorrow to finish even with Michigan State. The Spartans ended their conference play last week with a single loss, 6-0 to Purdue. They taper off their schedule tomorrow against Marquette.

Terps Meet Bama

Maryland, a close second to Notre Dame in this week's Associated Press poll of the nation's top teams, finishes its season against Alabama. The Terrapins, like Notre Dame, are unbeaten, and figure to continue that way although the Crimson Tide beat them a year ago and upset Georgia Tech last week.

Maryland appears to have the inside track to the Orange Bowl which matches the Big Seven champion against the best in the Atlantic Coast Conference. However, since the ACC is brand new this year and the members aren't playing a full schedule the bowl nominee will be picked by ballot with Duke being about the only opposition to Jim Tatum's lads.

The Blue Devils were upset by Army and tied by Navy, but they get a chance to polish their reputation tomorrow against Georgia Tech.

Down in the Southwest Conference where the Cotton Bowl host is still undetermined the Rice Owls will try to stay in the picture with a victory over Texas Christian. Baylor, bounced from the unbeaten ranks to the role of a two-time loser in two weeks, will try to regain winning form against Southern Methodist but it probably will be close.

Oklahoma, the only team with a major bowl invitation signed, sealed delivered, ends its Big Seven season against Nebraska. The Sooners, Big Seven champions, will play in the Orange Bowl.

The big traditional game in the east pits Yale against Harvard at New Haven with Yale favored.

Why We Say...

"AT THE ELEVENTH HOUR"

When someone is saved from something at the last minute, we might call it an eleventh hour reprieve". The phrase is derived from the Bible, "Parable of the Vineyard" where the laborers who went in at the eleventh hour were given the same amount as those who toiled all day.

Health Officers Elected for Year

Woodstock, Nov. 20—Officers for the coming year were elected at the final meeting of the year of the Woodstock public health committee Thursday afternoon at the Health Center. Re-elected to office were Mrs. Victor Busch, president; Mrs. Anna Kamen, vice-president; Clarence Snyder, treasurer; and the new secretary will be Mrs. William K. Gregory.

Annual reports were read by officers and committee chairmen. Mrs. Busch gave a resume of meetings during the past year and thanked all the chairmen and committees for the fine work accomplished during the year. Mrs. Snyder presented the annual treasurer's report.

An average of five children a month have been seen during the past year at the well-baby clinic. Mrs. Melvin Leshen, chairman reported.

In the absence of Mrs. Bev. Anderson, chairman of the dental clinic, Mrs. Busch reported that the dental work on all patients of the clinic had been completed. Mrs. Charles King reported on requests for transportation to the various clinics, all of which had been filled for the past year. Mrs. Warren Huttley said that she had received 45 requests for the visiting Housekeepers Service.

Plans were made for the Christmas project under the direction of Mrs. Harry Kutzschbach, chairman of the cheer committee, who instituted the program last year. Serving on the committee will be Mrs. Busch, Miss Anne Cassidy, Mrs. Gladys Feeley, Mrs. Charles King, Mrs. Clarence Snyder and Mrs. William K. Gregory. The committee will meet Wednesday, Dec. 9, at the Health Center at 1:30 p. m., to pack the Christmas boxes.

Mrs. Snyder outlined a list of suggestions for articles for the loan closet as well as noting the necessary repairs to be made on some equipment in the closet.

Mrs. Bruff W. Olin was appointed chairman of the house committee for the Health Center, and Mrs. Busch will decorate the rooms in time for the Christmas baby clinic, the third Wednesday in December.

Good Year is Result

Summing up the year's work of the committee, Miss Anne Cassidy, public health nurse said that the group had given her "an excellent feeling of enthusiasm and cooperation throughout the year. You have done the necessary things and worked well together."

Singling out individual effort, she said that Mrs. Melvin Leshen, chairman of the clinic committee, had been a "great help and never waited for jobs but always asked in advance what could be done."

The Riding Club is particularly indebted to the many business men in the village who cooperate in the presentation of a horse show program which aids considerably in maintaining the high standard of the show, which is a costly undertaking.

In the absence of Griffin Herick, president, who was ill, Frei Van De Bogart presided at the meeting.

Two new members were unanimously voted into the club. They were Mrs. Edward Donohue and Henry France, both of Saugerties.

After the business meeting colored slides of the last Horse Show and club field day as well as magnificent scenes taken around Woodstock and Ulster county were shown by Henry Bertsch of Bearsville.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Joseph Friedberg gave a lively talk and demonstration on How to Relax.

12 Attend Party

Woodstock, Nov. 20—Twelve members of the Woodstock Riding Club attended the 16th birthday party for Miss Helen Dargan, a supper dance held in the Centerville Firehouse, Saugerties, given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Dargan Saturday. There were 125 guests present.

Riding Club Will Keep Membership
In Present Group

Woodstock, Nov. 20—Since the renewal of the membership in the National Horse Shows Association, Inc., the Woodstock Riding Club, Inc., voted overwhelmingly in favor of continuing membership in the association at a meeting Thursday night in the basement of the Dutch Reformed Church.

In the discussion which preceded the vote, several members expressed their belief that the presentation of a nationally recognized horse show is of exception.

Agapae Plan Party

Woodstock, Nov. 20—Plans were made to hold the annual Christmas party for the children of the members of Agapae Reional advantage to the community. It was pointed out that a recognized horse show is valuable in providing a group activity for the club, and the advantages of such a horse show to the young members of the club were stressed. It provides them with an opportunity for participation in a real competition to which a high standard of rules must be adhered.

Show Set for Spring

It was announced that a nationally recognized horse show will be held again next spring. Mrs. George Hard will serve as chairman and will announce her committees in the near future. Since the show entails a great amount of work on the part of the various committees, plans are made many months in advance.

The Riding Club is particularly indebted to the many business men in the village who cooperate in the presentation of a horse show program which aids considerably in maintaining the high standard of the show, which is a costly undertaking.

In the absence of Griffin Herick, president, who was ill, Frei Van De Bogart presided at the meeting.

Pepper Cop Two

Woodstock, Nov. 20—Bowling in the Saugerties B. League, Wednesday night Peper's Garage won two games out of three against Reingold Beer. Peper's score 869-824-749 and Reingold 786-715-774. Peper's had handicaps of 55-56-23. Individual scores for Peper's were: A. Peter 137-0-143; G. Eichler 0-148-130; C. Nicponski 197-190-122; C. Harder 154-174-113; J. Raymond 162-126-0; E. Snyder 164-160-227. Individual score for Reingold were: J. Myers 167-141-171; O. Whittaker 144-167-161; N. Barabas 168-136-0; Young 0-154-110; G. Fisher 0-145-160; H. Jasinski 150-0-166; H. Myers 157-139-0. Ed Snyder was both high single and high triple scorer with 227 and 541. Ed Snyder's 227 made a new high single for this league.

Cub Scout ProgramTo Be Reorganized

Woodstock, Nov. 20—Parents of boys of Cub Scout age—eight to 11 years—are cordially invited to bring their sons to a meeting of Pack 34 at the Woodstock School, Monday, Nov. 23, at 7:30 p. m. A program will be presented to explain how cubbing works. Since it is in essence a home program, the responsibility rests upon the parents to work with their boys. Cubbing, the leaders believe, cannot be successful without this cooperation, as it is founded on the premise that parents are the natural persons to introduce their children to the larger life of the neighborhood and community.

The Cub Scout program in the village has been reorganized and revitalized under the new leadership of Allen Moyer as assistant cubmaster and Mrs. Walter Van Wagener and Mrs. Rhoda Klippen as den mothers.

In the future cubbing in this village in Pack 34 is to be carried out with the definite understanding that no boy of cub age will be admitted to the activities of the pack unless he is accompanied by at least one parent at the pack meetings, which are held once a month.

Any boy who is past seven and a half years of age may participate in Cub activities but may not become a Cub until he has reached his eighth birthday.

The committee for Pack 34, of the Rip Van Winkle Council is composed of Harold Mellin, Henry Bertsch and the Rev. Harvey I. Todd.

Author's Book GetsReview in Tribune

Woodstock, Nov. 20—Miss Frances Rogers, Woodstock author, has recently had a book about fire engines published by the J. B. Lipincott Company. The new book was reviewed in the Children's Book Week issue of the New York Herald Tribune Book Review last Sunday, as follows:

"To live next door to a fire house, in the days when the very first steam-fire-engine was a novelty, to run with the gang of young runners and join in the feuds of rival companies—that was the luck of David James. His uncle hoped to teach him carpentry, but the uncle was more interested in painting his cigar-store Indians and David had a passion for going to fires. With him, we learn a lot about those fascinating old engines, and about the gradual improvement of New York city's fire-fighting system.

"The secondary plot about the queer boy who collects bugs and was suspected of arson is rather simple; but there is so much excitement with the fires, with David's rescue of the beloved fire house dog, with the final passing of the smoke test which made David a hero, that boys won't mind the easily guessed mystery.

The background of the old-time city is cleverly sketched in, and the pictures show just what boys would want to know about those old engines. For ages about eleven to fourteen."

The book is illustrated by the author.

Odd Fellows Party

Woodstock, Nov. 20—The Odd Fellows of Bearsville Lodge will hold a card party at the Lodge Hall, Bearsville, Dec. 10. Refreshments of cake and sandwiches will be provided by the members of Agapae Rebekah Lodge.

Planning Fund for Quads

Gainesville, Fla., Nov. 20 (AP) — The Hijab quadruplets, born two days ago, were reported in continued fair condition today, though Dr. Raymond Camp will not yet comment on their chance of survival. Names haven't been selected for the infants, born to a Moslem couple, Mr. and Mrs. Wasfi Ahmad Hijab, both University of Florida graduate students. But hospital attendants unofficially are calling the quads Ann, Baker, Carol and Doris (one boy, three girls). A group of civic officials planned to meet this afternoon to map a fund campaign for the quads under the name "Hijab Point 4 Program."

Rain, Cool Air Hit in Midwest

(By The Associated Press)
Rain and cooler air moved into the central part of the country today ending nearly a week of mid weather in many sections of the midwest.

However, temperatures continued above normal levels over most areas in the eastern third of the nation.

The Rocky Mountains and northern states had heavy snowfalls — nearly two feet in some parts of Wyoming and Colorado.

Fourteen passengers were stranded in a cross-country Trailways bus which was trapped in deep snow drifts in eastern Colorado. They were reported in no immediate danger in the heated bus which was en route from Kansas City to Denver. The bus was stalled in the snow near the village of Joes, 126 miles east of Denver. There was a half foot of snow on the ground near Joes but the winds had piled up drifts seven and eight feet deep.

Rain Is General
Rain was quite general in the upper Mississippi valley today as the cooler air continued its movement southeastward from the Rockies. Light rain also fell in the southeast Great Plains and changed to sleet in the western plains. Snow fell along the eastern slopes of the central Rockies.

There also were rain showers and light snow from central California and northwestern Nevada northward over Oregon and Washington.
